INSTRUCTIONS TO JURY.

Judge Bradley Gives the Pollard-Breckinridge Jury Their Directions. Washington, April 9.—Madeline Pollard wore her most becoming bonnet when she entered the circuit court accompanied by Sister Ellis and her counsel today. She took her usual chair before the judge, her profile to the jury. The audience was composed mostly of members of the bar and was smaller than customary.

members of the bar and was smaller than customary.

Judge Bradley first announced his decision of the prayers for instructions. Nine prayers of the plaintiff were granted in modified form and five of them refused. Six prayers of the defendant were granted in modified form, or substitutes granted, and five were refused.

The instructions granted in condensed form are as follows for the plaintiff:

First—If the jury find from the evi-

First-If the jury find from the evidence that there were mutual promises of marriage as claimed in the declaration that would constitute a binding contract, and if the defendant married another person that would be a breach of the contract upon which the plaintiff would be entitled to sue. Illicit relations with him, or with others before the contract was made, if known to him, would be no defense.

Second—The burden of proof is upon the defendant to show by a preponderance of evidence, that there was an agreement that merely the semblance of a contract not to be carried out was agreed upon between them.

Third—If promises were made by the defendant in bad faith, but accepted by the plaintiff in good faith, this bad faith on his part would not constitute a de-

Fourth—The conduct of the plaintiff and defendant at, about and after making the contract, is to be considered in judging its good or bad faith.

Fifth—If the jury find that the defendant promised the plaintiff in good faith to marry her, the burden of proof rests upon him to establish by a preponderence of proof or defense or re-lease, and it would not be a defense that he had illicit relations with her, or she told him of illicit relations with others. Sixth—If before the contract there was intercourse between the two and the defendant knew that she was previously unchaste, it constitutes no defense. Seventh-If she informed him that she had been impure with Rhodes, that constitutes no defense. Eighth—The secret marriage does not constitute a defense.

Ninth-If promises were not made until after the secret marriage it does not constitute a defense. Tenth-If the jury finds for the plaintiff they are to consider the prospective advantage to the plaintiff from the marriage, the character was made for the purpose of a defense, they may consider the fact in awarding damages. Then follow the instructions for the defense: First-Before the plaintiff can recover the jury must believe from all the evibetween the plaintiff and defendant to become husband and wife.

Second—If the jury find that statements were made in the presence of, or to third parties that they were engaged to be married, and such statements were made pursuant to an understanding for the purpose of deceiving third persons, such statements are not to be taken as constituting or evidencing a contract.

Third—The burden of proof to establish the contract is upon the plaintiff. Fourth-If before the contract the plaintiff was guilty of lewd or unchaste conduct with other men,unknown to the de-fendant,he was not bound by the contract and may avail himself of such defense, whether at the time of his refusal he knew of the conduct or not. Fifth—If the jury believe that the plaintiff was guilty of unchaste conduct with other men, unknown to the defense, they must find for him, even if knowledge of it did not come to him until after

Sixth—The jury may in mitigation of damages consider the plaintiff's charac-ter and conduct, if the same were not good, and the plaintiff was not seduced by the defendant, may consider her want The judge was anxious to limit the time for argument to five hours on each side, but after both sides had protested against the time limit, he yielded the Attorney Calderon Carlise then opened the argument for the plaintiff, TILLMAN SCORES GROVER.

by the South Carolina Executive. COLUMBIA, S. C., April 9.—Governor Tillman was interviewed here today. The governor called attention to the fact that many of the northern and western papers were speaking of him as the Populist governor. Then after a little deliberation he said: "Yes, they call me a Populist. I will tell them that I am the true and the representative of Jeffersonian Democracy in the lead in American politics today. Let me tell you, I don't see anything ahead now but for the southern Democrats to combine their forces with the western Populists and go into the next national campaign on new party lines. The northeastern Democrats and Republicans are now together. It is a combination of the moneyed interests."

The governor then turning suddenly and in a somewhat excited and very forcible manner said:

"I despise Cleveland and his mug-wumps. He is no better than the rank-est Republican. He has destroyed the Democratic party. The south and west will be forced to unite and have a com-

The people who are afraid of the negro and other question will have to have to cast aside their fears on those scores and come together on the one line of fighting the money combination Cleveland has been working under the dictation of the New York bankers, and bargaining with them in the matter of 217.... the i-sue of bonds. Architect and Superintendent, take them, there would be no more legislation on the silver question by this congress. Congress passed the seignion age act, and he vetoed the bill indicating plainly the nature of his bargain with the bankers. The whole thing is such a scheme of robbery that he ought to be impeached for it. It is a shame and a disgrace. The idea of this great gov-ernment having to beg a lot of Shylocks' assistance is so outrageous that there is no language too strong in which to characterize it.

"Cleveland is owned body and soul by these scoundrels; he secured his nomination at Chicago through the influence of a subsidized press and with the votes he lacked thereafter exhausting such means he be bought with promises of patronage, which promises have since been redeemed; the goods have been delivered. His attempt to browbeat and debauch the senators and representatives was outrageous in the extreme. If these cowardly congressmen up there had any appreciation of their duty to their constituents at home they would impeach him.

"Consider the farce and treason to the interests of the masses of issuing bonds under a pretence of increasing the gold reserve when the same gold is paid in at one window and drawn out at another with silver certificates. And the same procession goes on till the silver certifi-cates are exhausted and the people have to pay the interest."

"Well, Governor, what is your idea of what ought to be done?" The governor thought for an instant and then said: "Well, I'll tell you. I think that the silver men of the country ought to meet in convention at Memphis or St. Louis and organize a fight to control the next congress. Let the west and south cast aside all questions upon which they now have any differences and get together. It is a fight between gold and sliver, or poverty against prosperity. "One more word as to Mr. Cleveland. I think that it is most outrageous his being dictated to and bought up by those bondholders. It is debasing his high office. He is abusing his power to dicker with such people and barter away the people's blood, even upon the pretext of finencial relief.

"The newspapers which are snarling and snapping at my heels as being a Populist, are the paid hirelings of his bosses. I am a Populist in the sense that I am for the people's maker. for the people's rights, but there are many planks in the Populist platform which I do not endorse. If the sliver congressmen will issue a call for a silver convention and carry the war into Africa we will teach these bloodsucking gold thieves a leason in politics such as they have not had since Jackson's campaign against the banks. The farmers of the south and west will move onward in a solid body and demand legislation that will give them relief from the grinding poverty produced by six cent cotton and 30 cent wheat."
